NEWS FROM THE SUBURBS.

WESTCHESTER COUNTY.

MOUNT VERNON.

The Amphion Glee Club gave its third and final concert of the season at Willard Hall, on Friday evening. It was not only successful from a musical point of view, but the hall was well-filled by the patrons and their friends. Professor Henry R. Humphries, conductor of the Bank Clerks' Glee Club, of New-York, for many years, conducted Club, of New-York, for many years, conducted the Amphion's concert. The singers stood in a tropical bower, made by the numerous plants and flowers. Mason P. Currier accompanied with the organ, and E. Levy with the plano. The special features of the evening were the duets from "II Trovatore," the "Miserere," and the "Swiss Boy," by the Bent brothers, cornetists, from New-York; the contraito solos, "Spring Song," and "Douglas Gordon," by Mrs. Alfred E. Taylor, who was recalled by the audience, and later received a handcalled by the audience, and later received a hand-some floral design from the club; the "Nun of son, tenor; "Cottage Fair," with an incidental solo by Mrs. Taylor, and "The Star Spangled Banner," at the close, in which parts were introduced for the cornet, plano and organ.

The Rev. William Walton Clark, well known for his Bible readings, will occupy the pulpit of the Reformed Church to-day. Nidaros," with incidental solos by Thomas Deni-

YONKERS.

The committee of the Common Council appointed to investigate the administration and finances of the Board of Health will meet in the City Clerk's office, at the Manor Hall, on Wednesday evening. at 8 o'clock. The committee consists of Alderman Gaul, chairman; Alderman Tompkins and Alderman Kaler. . . Three lots of city of Yonkers bonds were sold last week, all at a high premium, which shows that the credit of the city is first-class. The Board of Water Commissioners sold $45,000 of water bonds to Benwell & Everett, at 105.56. Mayor Peene sold, on Saturday, $75,000 in tax relief bonds to the Citizens' National Bank, at 100.05, and $23,000 as-sesament bonds to the Yonkers Savings Bank, at Brotherhood of St. Andrew will meet with the Episoopal churches at Yonkers to-day. There will be a meeting at Christ Church at 9:30 a. m., followed by a sermon at 10:30; a business meeting at St. John's Church in the evening.

PEEKSKILL.

The annual teachers' institute for the third County, will begin to-morrow, at Peekskill, continue during the week. The sessions will be held daily, morning and afternoon, in the esembly room of Oakside School. A great many teachers will be present from different parts of the county, and the preparations for their accommodation have been about completed. While the control of the institute is primarily under School Com-missioner Timothy C. Adams, still, the Department of Public Instruction of the State has complete charge and furnishes the conductor and assistants. charge and furnishes the conductor and assistants. Dr. Isaac H. Stout will be the conductor of the institute, and will have as his assistants. Professor E. W. Wetmore and Mrs. B. Ellen Burke. Principals John Millar and A. D. Dunbar, of this city, will also assist. Principal W. C. Fox, of Croton, will be the musical director. The evening sessions will be given up to lectures, to be held in the Dutch Reformed Church.

The tournament of the Peekskill Gun Club will be held on its grounds next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Shooting will begin at 9 a. m. Five expert traps and pull will be used.

NEW-JERSEY.

JERSEY CITY.

Judge Lippincott yesterday denied the motion to quash the indictment against the Jersey City Street and Water Board for malfeasance, but did grant a certiorari to review the proceedings before the Su-

It is reported in Newark that Father O'Connor, Vicar-General of the diocese of Newark, who is located at Seton Hall College, South Orange, is favored by Archbishop Corrigan and Bishop Wigger favored by Archbishop Corrigan and Bishop Wigger for successor to the late Bishop O'Farrell, of the diocese of Trenton, and that his name is one of the three sent to Rome for Pope Leo to select from Vicar-General O'Connor studied at the American College in Rome, was professor at Seton Hall for fifteen years, and was born in Newark. The irremovable rectors in the Trenton diocese presented the names of the Rev. Messrs. Bernard Mulligan, John O'Grady and James A. McFaul, of their own diocese.

THE STROLLERS IN AID OF CHARITY.

The Strollers have come to be one of the delightful institutions of the city, and their matinee on rul institutions of the city, and their matinee on Tuesday at the Berkeley Lyceum, in aid of the Training School for Nurses, the Wayside Day Nursery, Bables Hospital and Fresh-Air and Con-valescent Home at Summit, N. J., affords an excellent opportunity to many who have not yet done so to enjoy their refined drolleries and pleasant acting. They have been kind enough to offer their services to an important and worthy institution, which is in need of funds, for two entertainments, the matinee of Tuesday and an evening performance

Frank C. Drake will present his character sketch of "Raspberry Shrub Sec." Edward Fales Coward will appear in his own amusing comedy of "Hearts of "Raspberry Shrub Sec." Edward Fales Coward will appear in his own amusing comedy of "Hearts are Trumps," which is one of the best things the Strollers have. The subordinate parts are all well provided for by other entertaining members of the club, including Mr. Taintor. Mr. Drake will also appear in a skirt dance, which, as they say at Barnum's, must really "be seen to be appreciated."

Patrons of philanthropic work in this city need have no hesitation in contributing liberally to the success of the matinee on Tuesday, as well as to that of the evening performance on Thursday. In all the work of the Training School for Nurses there is not a particle of that injudicious effort which tends to enlarge the number of people who depend idly upon others for their support. The very purpose of the school is to give to young women of good character, who must live by their own services, a trade of the most useful and laudable character, and to make them competent practitioners of it. The managers of the school are Mrs. Henry W. Cannon. Mrs. Samuel Spencer, Mrs. Henry Hall, Mrs. Taibot Olyphant, Mrs. Miles B. Carpenter, Mrs. George W. Crary, Mrs. Charles S. Day, Dr. S. J. McNutt and Dr. J. G. McNutt. Tickets can be obtained from any of the managers or at the Berkeley Lycsum.

A PASSENGER JUMPED OVERBOARD.

C. M. Pahman, a second-cabin passenger on board the Cunard steamship Lucania, committed suicide on Friday by jumping overboard. He took passage on the ship at Liverpool. He was an Algerian, or belonged to some of the native African tribes. He said that he had been one of Stanley's carriers and came from the region of the Congo. He drank heavily from the time the Lucanta left port. On Friday night he was sitting in the second-cabin smoking-room drinking with his acquaintances, when suddenly he took his watch and chain and gave it to man who was sitting by him, saying: "I shall a man who was sitting by him, saying: "I shall not want it any more." He then rushed forward and attempted to jump into the sea. His acquaintances followed him and held him back, but he broke away from them and sprang over the rail. A cry of "Man overboard" was at once raised, the ship was stopped, life-buoys were thrown out and lights were burned. After a while it was evident he could not be rescued and the Lucania went on her way. Rahman told some of his friends in the cabin that he was a convert to Mormonism and was on his way to fall Zake.

A BRAVE LITTLE BOY KILLED. Robert J. Webb, a Central Office detective, has surse-girl. Julia. She took his three little boys down to Battery Park to play on Friday aftern They returned to their home, No. 22 Liberty-st. about 6 o'clock. Little Robert O. Webb, three years and three months old, was thirsty and went into the kitchen, which is on the fifth floor, to get a drink of water. A moment later the mother of the child and the nurse heard screams of horror coming from many of the open windows of the office buildings that surround the house. Rushing to the kitchen to see what was the matter, the nurse-girl noticed that the window next the sink, where Robert went to get the drink, was open, a thing which was unusual. On looking out she was horrified to see little Robert lying on the stone payement of the courtyard, eighty-five feet below the window.

She rushed downstairs, and upon entering the yard exclaimed, "Where are you, Robert?"

The brave little fellow, whose skull was fractured, right arm broken and body covered with bruises, replied, "Here I am, Julia."

The nurse lifted him in her arms and carried him tenderly to his bed. Medical aid was immediately summoned, but it was easy to see that the little fellow had not long to live. Death came at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. The boy bore his sufferings manfully.

He had been named after the veteran retired police captain, Robert O. Webb, who was his grandfather and with whom he was a great favorite. He was a grandson of ex-Alderman Thomas Cleary. The Webbs and the Clearys live together. eighty-five feet below the window.

MANY EXPOSED TO SMALLPOX AT THE TRIAL Three cases of smallpox were reported at the Health Department yesterday. The victims were John Williams, of No. 522 West Forty-fifth-st; Rose Weyman, of No. 251 Elizabeth-st., and Louis Maz-zidai, who was found at No. 90 James-st. The news that smallpox had broken out among the tenants of the house at No. 90 James-st. created an uneasy feeling at Police Headquarters, No. 90 James-st witnesses against Captain Slevin, declare is a witnesses against Captain Slevin, declare is a disorderly house. The captain had nearly one hundred witnesses at the Central Onice on Friday and a number of them were tenants of No. 39 James-st. Louis Mazzidai, the smallpox victim, had been ill two or three days, and many persons must necessarily have been exposed to the disease. As soon as Dr. Doty, of the Division of Contagious Diseases, heard that some of the tenants were at Police Headquarters yesterday he sent his men down and had them all vaccinated. He said he proposed to vaccinate everyone who was present at Captain Slevin's trial, including the Commissioners, police, lawyers and reporters.
